The worship of the Sun is as old as civilization.

I bow to you, O Surya, the Son of Kashyapa Muni, the destroyer of darkness and all sins, whose luster is like that of red Jaswand Flower. The worship of the Sun is as old as civilization.

The Sun that awakens man from darkness, the Sun that is so brilliant that it cannot be seen by the naked eye evokes awe in the human mind. In the Rig-Veda, Surya has been described as the life (atma) of all creation. Surya is praised as the God of Gods (Rig-Veda 1.50.10). Homage is paid to Surya by chanting special names while offering him salutation-Surya Namaskara. These twelve names that we use to worship Surya serve to remind us of his glory and power and to be eternally grateful for his constant blessings in our life here on earth.

Dear Prof. Dr. Sanjay Chordiya & Mrs. Sushama Chordiya

Please accept warm greetings and congratulations for the function organized on 7th Feb. 2013 for presentation of "Suryadatta National Lifetime Achievement Award" and "Suryadatta National Awards 2013".

Due to health problem, I am sorry I could not give full justice to the program. I have also missed an opportunity to listen to the speeches of the eminent awardees.

Being part of your organization, I was hesitant to accept the award. However your love did not allow me to refuse the same. This program also provided me an opportunity to meet several friends including Manindarjit Singh Bitta and others.

Love and affection of friends like you has always remained the strength in my life. I am sure that I will continue to receive the same in future.

I have my dream about Suryadatta Group of Institutes. Within few years, this Institute should be "Harvard" of India. Please try to fulfil my dream.

With warm regards and best wishes for Suryadatta Group of Institutes.

Yours sincerely,

Hon'ble Dr. Kiran Bedi

For excellence in the field of Public Service

Kiran Bedi, an Indian social activist, former-tennis player is the first woman in India to join the officer ranks of the Indian Police Service (IPS) in 1972 and was the 24th Lieutenant Governor of Puducherry from 28 May 2016 to 16 February 2021. She remained in service for 35 years before taking voluntary retirement in 2007 as Director General, Bureau of Police Research and Development.

As a teenager, Bedi was crowned the national junior tennis champion in 1966. Between 1965 and 1978, she won several titles at various national and state-level championships. After joining the IPS, Bedi served in Delhi, Goa, Chandigarh and Mizoram. She started her career as an Assistant Superintendent of Police (ASP) in Delhi, and won the President's Police Medal in 1979. Next, she moved to West Delhi, where she brought about a reduction in crimes against women. Subsequently, as a traffic police officer, she oversaw traffic arrangements for the 1982 Asian Games in Delhi and the Commonwealth Heads of Government Meeting 1983 in Goa. As Deputy Commissioner of Police of North Delhi, she launched a campaign against drug abuse, which evolved into the Navjyoti Delhi Police Foundation (renamed to Navjyoti India Foundation in 2007).

In May 1993, Bedi was posted to the Delhi Prisons as Inspector General (IG). She introduced several reforms at Tihar Jail, which won her the Ramon Magsaysay Award in 1994. In 2003, Bedi became the first Indian and first woman to be appointed head of the United Nations Police and Police Advisor in the United Nations Department of Peace Operations. She resigned in 2007, to focus on social activism and writing. She runs the India Vision Foundation. During 2008–11, she hosted a court show Aap Ki Kachehri. Bedi took oath as the Lieutenant Governor of Puducherry on 29 May 2016, stating that she was aiming to make Puducherry prosperous through "trust, empowerment and accountability." One of the first practices she initiated as the Lieutenant Governor was to open the gates of Raj Nivas - the official residence of the Governor - to the public, thereby making it the "People's Nivas". She started an 'open house' process where the public could visit Raj Nivas from Monday to Wednesday at 17:00 to meet the Lieutenant Governor in person and have their grievances addressed. She undertook morning rounds on bicycle to inspect public amenities and interact with people. Another project by Bedi has been 'Mission Water Rich Puducherry'. When she heard that the PWD did not have enough funds to de-silt water channels and the drains, she brought in community support in the form of CSR, connected donors with JCB machine contractors, and had the channels de-silted in short notice. Today, this model is being emulated across the country. Bedi has authored many books.

"Recipient Of Suryadatta Lifetime Achievement Award 2008"

Padma Bhushan Shri. Anna Hazare ji

For excellence in the field of Social Science

Kisan Baburao "Anna" Hazare an Indian social activist led movements to promote rural development, increase government transparency, and investigate and punish corruption in public life. In addition to organising and encouraging grassroots movements, Hazare frequently conducted hunger strikes to further his causes—a tactic reminiscent, to many, of the work of Mahatma Gandhi. Hazare also contributed to the development and structuring of Ralegan Siddhi, a village in Parner taluka of Ahmednagar district, Maharashtra, India. He was awarded the Padma Bhushan—the third-highest civilian award—by the Government of India in 1992 for his efforts in establishing this village as a model for others. Foreign Policy named him among top 100 global thinkers in 2011. Also in 2011, Hazare was ranked as the most influential person in Mumbai by a national daily newspaper.

During the Indo-Pakistani War of 1965, Hazare was posted at the border in the Khem Karan sector. He was the sole survivor of an enemy attack. During his fifteen-year career in the army (1960–75),[17] Anna Hazare was posted at several locations, including Punjab (Indo Pak war 1965), Nagaland, Bombay (1971) and Jammu (1974)

Anna has been instrumental in the transformation of village Ralegan Siddhi through various initiatives like Prohibition of alcohol, Grain Bank, Watershed development programme, etc. He also focused on facilities like Education, removal of untouchability through the Gram Sabha.

In 1991 Hazare launched the Bhrashtachar Virodhi Jan Andolan (BVJA, People's Movement against Corruption), a popular movement to fight against corruption[38] in Ralegaon Siddhi. In the same year he protested against the collusion between 40 forest officials and timber merchants. This protest resulted in the transfer and suspension of these officials. In the early 2000s Hazare led a movement in Maharashtra state which forced the state government to enact a revised Maharashtra Right to Information Act. This Act was later considered as the base document for the Right to Information Act 2005 (RTI), enacted by the Union Government. It also ensured that the President of India assented to this new Act.

In 2011, Hazare participated in the satyagraha movement campaigning for a stronger anti-corruption Lokpal (ombudsman) bill in the Indian parliament. Known as the Jan Lokpal Bill (People's Ombudsman Bill), it was drafted by N. Santosh Hegde, a former justice of the Supreme Court of India and Lokayukta of Karnataka, Prashant Bhushan, and social activist Arvind Kejriwal. The draft incorporated more stringent provisions and gave wider power to the Lokpal than the government's 2010 draft. These included placing "the Prime Minister within the ambit of the proposed lokpal's powers".

Within a few days of Anna Hazare's first fast demanding a strong Lokpal (on 5 April 2011), supporters started a campaign known as "I Am Anna Hazare", which was similar to the "We Are All Khaled Said" campaign from the Egyptian uprising. During Anna Hazare's second fast, his topi, the cap which became synonymous with Anna Hazare, became almost a fashion statement. Sales of the topis hit an all-time high. Kiran Bedi recommended that the "I am Anna" topi be displayed whenever someone asked for a bribe.
